PROPOSALS

By Joseph M Sanderson,

For Publishing by Subscription,

A Biography of the Signers OF THE Declaration of Independence,

Accompanied with Plates.

To which will be annexed a History of the Proceedings of Congress, during the passage of the Law, and the Declaration itself, with the fac simile Engravings of the Signatures.

By JOHN SANDERSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we consider the personal qualities of the statesmen whose names are affixed to the Declaration of Independence, the perilous occasion which demanded the exercise of their wisdom and deliberation, and the influence of their councils on the interests of mankind, we must acknowledge that very rarely a more imposing spectacle has been offered to the world, and we shall seek in vain in the annals of nations, for an event more worthy of commemoration, and of being cherished forever in the hearts of a grateful and generous people. The love of independence is interwoven with the frame and constitution of the human mind. It is almost the first sentiment that animates the infant's features in the cradle; and amongst all the actions and enterprizes of man, none has awaked into activity a greater exertion of the virtuous energies of his nature, none has excited a greater warmth of veneration, and has more imperious claims upon our gratitude, than resistance to tyranny and political aggression.

In all republican states the first tribute of genius has been paid to the patriot or the hero who has promoted the cause of liberty and maintained the independence and dignity of man. The animated canvas and breathing marble have rescued his features from the grasp of death, and the pen of the historian has inscribed the achievements to the imperishable records of fame. It would indeed be no favorible prognostic of the perpetuity of our republican institutions to discover an insensibility to the obligations we owe the memory of the illustrious patrons of American freedom. They have raised us, by their magnanimity, from the arbitrary dominion of a foreign power, to the distinguished elevation of a sovereign and independent people; they have asserted and maintained the imprescriptiole rights of humanity by the "mutual pledge of their pledge of their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honors;" and, as long as virtue holds her empire in the hearts of their successors, the example of these generous benefactors will not be lost to the world; their names will not pass away nor be forgotten, or their glorious deeds be confounded in the common and casual transaction of life.—Ingratitude is a vice that in nations, as well as individuals, indicates the last degree of degeneracy and corruption; it is a vice that implies the absence of every virtue; it was in the age of Caligula that the name of the Scipios was proscribed, that the state of Brutus brought death on its possessor.

"The glory of our ancestors is the light of posterity," and the homage of the living cannot be offered to the merits of the illustrious dead with an effectual or sterile admiration. Great and splendid actions will seldom be achieved by men who have humble or ordinary objects in prospect. It is by contemplating the life and character of those who are marked out from the multitude by their eminent qualities, that we become emulous of their virtues and their renown. The trophies of Miltiades interrupted the sleeps of Themistocles; and Theseus, hearing the exploits of Hercules, was fired with his spirit, and became the successful rival of his fame. The rude savage of the desert listens with rapture to the deeds of his ancestors, and hangs around his hut the emblems of his father's valour.

More need not be said to enforce the utility of the publication we have undertaken, and which we now submit to the patronage of our fellow-citizens, with a hope, that from the liberality of their encouragement, we shall be able to present it to the public worthy of their approbation. We must depend for the illustration of many of the characters of our biography, upon the generosity of their surviving relatives and friends, to furnish us with whatever interesting materials may be in their possession; for which, with our grateful acknowledgments, we promise a copy of the entire work as a compensation.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be published in numbers or half volumes of 200 pages, octavo, and contained in ten numbers. To the first will be prefixed an appropriate frontispiece—and the work will be commenced with the declaration of independence, with engraved fac similes of the signatures, and a compendious detail of the proceedings of congress, during the passage of the law. Each of the lives, unless when it is impracticable, will be preceded by a likeness of the person, engraved by the best artists in the United States.

II. It will be printed on fine paper, made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per number, payable on delivery.

 Subscriptions received at this office.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1819.

We have copied from a Utica paper, a minute account of the commencement of navigation on the Great New-York Canal.—The relation is extremely interesting, and the success of this experiment may possibly be the means of awakening attention to national improvements of a similar kind in our own neighborhood, where they are known o be much wanted.

The Governor of New-York has appointed Wednesday, the 22d day of December, as a day of Prayer and Thanksgiving, throughout the state.

The Governor of Connecticut has appointed Thursday the 23d day of December, to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer throughout that state.

The receipts at the Philadelphia Theatre, on the 3d inst. were 514 dollars. After deducting the expenses of the night, a little upwards of 100 dollars will perhaps go to the benefit of the poor in Baltimore.

[Franklin Gaz.

There were no American vessels at Laguira on the 11th October.—Flour was at 23 dollars per barrel. [Norfolk Beacon.

A correspondent states that there were in this port, on Saturday, Oct. 30th. 111 ships, 76 brigs, 155 schooners, 390 sloops, and a number of steam vessels—making a total of 740 vessels, exclusive of a great number of fishing vessels, ferry boats, &c. and exclusive also, of the large number of vessels lying at Brooklyn. [N. Y. Merc. Adv.

By the Courier, Bowne, in a short passage from London, we are furnished with an account of a riot in that city of a truly imposing aspect. The situation of Great Britain is hazardous—an universal fermentation is pervading the kingdom. It must subside—the excitement be appeased; or it is evident England has reached her climax. In Carlisle more than 2000 reformists are daily drilling and preparing for civil war. The next arrivals may furnish disastrous intelligence. [Balt. Fed. Rep.

A letter from a respectable house in Liverpool says—"We have just received 1750 bags of East India wheat." We have been prepared to expect that grain of every kind would be sent to England from the Grecian and Italian states; but this is the first occurrence of any shipments of grain to Europe from the East Indies.

Raleigh, November 5.

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE.

We grieve much, that we are compelled to state the death of Major Opie, of the U. S. army, occasioned a few nights since, by attempting to escape from the northern stage. The particulars are detailed to us by a friend, so far as he could collect them from persons who had conversed with the driver:

"The driver says, that immediately after passing the bridge at Fishing Creek, near Warrenton, he was called to, and ordered to stop; when rising from his seat to see who called, he received a stroke from which he fell upon his horses. Having lost the command of the reins, the horses moved off. Major Opie, finding the driver was not on the box, attempted, as is supposed, to extricate himself from the stage, and received a fatal injury by coming in contact with the wheels.

"Although the Major lived several days after the misfortune, he never sufficiently recovered his speech or senses, to give any information upon the subject." [Minerva.

From a Utica, (N. Y.) paper.

LARGE VERDICT.

At the Circuit Court for the county of Oneida, held in Utica the week before last, came on the following cause:

Medad Curtis vs. Ariel Lawrence.

This was an action of slander for charging the plaintiff with theft, for having stolen hens and pork. The defendant was proved to be a man of about 80 years of age, and of considerable wealth. The plaintiff is an attorney, and son-in-law of the defendant. The testimony disclosed a melancholy scene of family contention. The plaintiff's case was fully made out. There was no attempt at justification; but the defendant's counsel declared that none could be made or was intended. Some effort was, however, made, to prove facts which might mitigate the charge, and, consequently, the damages. The cause did not require, and, in fact, did not admit of much professional exertion; it was, however, briefly and pertinently argued by the respective counsel. The Jury, composed of very intelligent and worthy men, after a short consultation, gave a verdict for the plaintiff, for 4250 dollars damages, which was more than four times as much as they were laid at in the delaration.

FROM THE UTICA PATRIOT.

Commencement of Navigation on Erie Canal.

On Saturday, the 23d of October, 1819, his excellency gov. Clinton, gen. Van Rensselaer, and Messrs. Holley and Seymour, canal commissioners, Mr. Wright, engineer of the middle section of the Erie canal, Messrs. White, Bates and Jarvis, assistant engineers, and Mr. agent Barlow, together with the rev. Dr. Blatchford, of Lansingburgh, and Mr. Stansbury, of Albany, Mr. Bonner of New-York, judge Miller, Messrs. Williams, Clark, Van Rensselaer, Bloodgood, Lansing, Childs, Walker, and many other gentlemen of the village of Utica and its vicinity, the sheriff of Oneida county, col. Westcott, and the hon E. Hart and Perry G. Childs, senators of the western district, started, in a canal boat, from the eastern extremity of the middle section, on an excursion of curiosity and experiment for Rome.

The dam at Oriskany creek having been finished, and the bars of earth adjoining it having been removed so as to admit the passage of a boat, a depth of two and a half feet of water had been let into the canal on the Thursday preceding.

The first admission of water into a canal is always attended with great solicitude. It is the ultimate test of the accuracy of the levels, and affords most important inferences, as to the solidity and fidelity, with which the banks have been constructed, and the sufficiency of the feeders. One of the jobs, east of the Oneida creek, not being entirely completed, it was deemed expedient to prevent the water from extending farther west, on the Rome summit than Wood-creek-aqueduct, a distance of eighteen miles. And it was known, that the quicksands, at Oriskany hill, presented more cause of alarm than are, any where else, to be found on the section. A number of men had been stationed on the bank, at that place, to watch the motion, and effect of the waters, as they accumulated, and to arrest, as quick as possible, the progress of any evil that might arise.

The waters moved gently on, from Oriskany creek, the great feeder of the eastern end of the level towards Utica—swelled round Oriskany hill to the intended depth, and were not observed to produce any threatening indications into the banks for several hours, when at about one o'clock on the morning of Friday, a breach was suddenly effected at a place where a drain had been very recently filled up.

At the place of this drain, the natural surface of the ground was two feet below the bottom of the canal, of course, when the water was two feet and a half deep, along the line in general, there was here a pressure of four and a half feet head. But this pressure would have produced no injury, if due care had been taken in raising the bottom of the canal, and breaking in the sides of the drains, and puddling the earth required in closing it.

By the activity and energy of Mr. Brown, assistant engineer, and Messrs. Brainard, Miller, Chapin, and Simpson, contractors, the breach was soon repaired, so that by noon on Friday, the waters were again allowed to enter the canal, And before daylight, on Saturday, they filled it for eighteen miles to the depth of near three feet, on the morning of this day, therefore, the party above mentioned commenced their excursion.

The scene was novel and most interesting. Considering the circumstances of our country—the great benefits sure to result to us from internal trade—the intelligence of our citizens to perceive and appreciate these benefits—their virtue and public spirit to make the necessary permanent appropriations beforehand—the influence upon all our best sympathies which cannot fail to be most extensively produced, by such easy, pleasing and economical means of general intercourse as are furnished by navigable canals—and the construction of our great work, not only in the light of its own exceeding utility, but as introducing, throughout the ample territories of our national empire, a spirit of active and persevering internal improvement—it is believed that the records of social life do not afford a scene more interesting.

Amidst the cheers and shouts of almost the whole neighboring population, the ringing of the church bells in Utica, and the patriotic tunes of a band of music on board, the boat was put in motion. It was drawn by one horse, by means of a rope eighty feet long, of which one end was connected with the whippletree, and the other with a book secured to the boat, at a little distance from the bow, on the towing-path side; and every body was surprised at the ease with which a single horse moved on, at the rate of four miles an hour, drawing a boat with from seventy to eighty passengers continually on board.

The agitation of the waters in the canal, in consequence of the motion of the boat, was not such as to induce the fear of much injury to the banks; and when the whole depth of water is let in, it will be much less.

At a short distance from the place of starting, on the line of the canal, there is an embankment over Nail creek 21 feet high, above the natural surface of the ground, and 32 rods long, under which is constructed a large semi-circular culvert of stone, for passing the water of the creek, under the canal, into the Mohawk river below. The arch of the culvert has a span of 15 feet, and the whole structure looks stable and well adapted to its object. In a canal, the triumph of art is most apparent, where the navigation is carried high over the neighboring lands; this embankment therefore was regarded with great complacency.

In 36 minutes we had passed near three miles, and reached the east end of an embankment, about 130 chains across the valley of the Sedaqueda creek. The creek itself is passed by an aqueduct 260 feet long, connected with the embankment. This aqueduct consists of two abutments with the necessary wing walls and seven piers of solid masonry. And this stone work supports a trunk 16 feet wide, consisting of timber and plank for the waters of the canal to occupy, and a towing path of plank eight feet wide for the horse to travel on. There is an angle, in the embankment, where it connects with the aqueduct, at each end; but the connection is so contrived as to admit of an easy passage in both directions, and the whole appears strong and well planned. Passing westerly, this embankment is terminated, by excavation through the beautiful plateau of land, which constitutes the site of the village of Whitesborough.

All the way to this place many hundreds of spectators had followed the boat, on the banks of the canal, very frequently filling the air with their animating cheers. Arrived here, the bells of Whitesborough began to ring, a salute was fired from a road bridge, by a detachment from capt. Mann's company of artillery, and the whole village arrayed itself with the most lively demonstrations of curiosity and joy, upon the banks of the canal. Some of the passengers gave place to the ladies and gentlemen of Whitesborough, and the rev. Mr. Frost with his wife, Mr. Gold with two of his daughters, and Miss Platt, Mr. Tracy and his daughters, Mrs. Sheriff Pease, Judge Young, Mr. Sill, Mr. White and several other persons came on board.

The boat was built at Rome by Messrs. Miller, Chapin and Brainard, contractors, on a neat and convenient model, being 61 feet long, 8 feet wide, and 4 feet deep, with two cabins, each of which is 14 feet long, 6 feet 6 inches from the floor to the ceiling, and accommodated with the necessary closets and furniture. She is called "the Chief Engineer," and carried a flag on this occasion, on which was handsomely painted the American eagle, and a canal boat, with the words "Erie Canal" above, and "Inland Navigation" below.

In building the boat, taking out the bars of earth near the Oriskany, and making every other provision for this first experiment of navigating the canal, Messrs. Brainard, Miller and Chapin, Sheriff Pease, and col. Westcott, have made great and laudable exertions. And it was easy to perceive, that the canal commissioners, the engineer, with his assistants, and every other witness and partaker of this expedition, will set down the day, on which it has occurred, as the happiest in their lives.

A PASSENGER IN THE BOAT.

Philadelphia, November 6.

BANK OF THE UNITED STATES.

At an adjourned meeting of the Stockholders of the Bank of the United States, held at Washington Hall, on Friday, the 5th instant, Mr. Drayton, from the general committee of the Stockholders of the Bank of the U. States, appointed on the 1st instant, delivered in the following Report:

The Committee appointed on the first of this month, by the Stockholders of the Bank of the United States, convened in Philadelphia, respectfully report—

That after a laborious examination of documents, a patient attention to oral testimony connected with them, and a careful perusal of written statements submitted to the committee by the President of the Bank of the U. States, and some of the Directors of one of its Branches, which were elucidated, where necessary, by verbal explanations, it appears, that the losses ascertained to have accrued, and which may be expected to accrue at the Branch in Baltimore, amount to about 1,000,000 ds. estimating the stock of the Bank pledged in Baltimore to the parent Bank, for the security of loans upon it, at 100 ds. a share. In forming their judgment of the losses at Baltimore, little more was necessary for the committee than to collate the facts and to digest the evidence which was before them. After having done so, the conclusion above stated almost necessarily followed.

The consideration of the other losses which have been sustained by the institution, was involved in greater difficulty, nor can the committee decide upon them with the same degree of certainty as upon those which occurred at Baltimore. From many of the western branches no returns of losses have been received by the parent bank since June last. Subsequently to that period therefore, no information respecting the losses in those branches can be obtained through official channels; but when the committee reflect that many of the debts due to the institution were contracted when lands and produce, which have since depreciated were at enormous prices, and when speculation was very prevalent—and when they combine these facts with the commercial and monied situation of the country, and give the weight which is due to respectable communications made by gentlemen examined before them, they are convinced, that the ascertained and probable losses in the parent bank, in the western, and in all the other branches, will fall little, if at all short of 1,300,000 dollars. These two sums make together 3,000,000 ds. from which, deducting 1,100,000 dollars, the balance of profit and loss of the bank to the first of July, 1819, the remainder will be 1,900,000, which ought, therefore, to be regarded as constituting a deduction, pro tanto, from the capital in July last; when it was expected that a dividend would have been made among the stockholders. The profit of the bank since that period, added to what upon a fair and moderate calculation will be received by July next, will then be more than sufficient to replace its losses. Under these circumstances, the committee would not think themselves justified in holding out to the stockholders the prospect of a dividend before the first of January 1821. Without some extraordinary calamity, the condition of the institution must then be such as to render its stock valuable and productive.

As the enormous loss at Baltimore has created great excitements and apprehension in the public mind, the committee deem it proper to state the causes which contributed largely towards swelling its amount. These causes are—

1st. The practice of permitting certain individuals to overdraw.

2d. Discounts granted by officers of that Branch without the knowledge of the Board of Directors.

3d. Granting discounts upon stock for amounts above its par value, without authority.

The committee beg leave to express their opinion, that the interests of the institution would be materially promoted, by alterations being made in the charter, so that every share should be entitled to one vote in elections for directors, that no votes should be receivable, at any meeting of the stockholders, upon stock pledged to the bank as a security for monies loaned and by striking out of the 2d and 19th fundamental articles of the 11th section of the charter the words 'and no director shall hold his office more than 3 years out of four in succession,' by which the same directors might be re-eligible for a longer period of time than is allowed by the existing law, although the same proportion of them would be obliged to vacate their seats. The committee likewise recommend, that the president and directors of the institution should be requested to apply to congress to enact a law subjecting to criminal punishment any cashier or subordinate officer guilty of fraudulent conduct towards the bank or any of its branches at the same time not interfering with the civil remedies against such delinquents.

The committee crave leave further to submit that, in their judgment no cashier or subordinate officer of the bank or its branches, ought to be permitted to speculate upon or to traffic in the stock; and as a great many persons have placed their all in the Bank of the U. States, the committee suggest, that the directors, upon the application of such individuals, should grant to them loans upon their shares, to such an amount and upon such conditions as the Directors may think proper; and, after mature deliberation, the committee strongly recommend as expedient, that the number of the offices of Discount and Deposit established in the several sections of the Union, should be gradually diminished whenever it shall be deemed beneficial to the institution; and the committee are of opinion, that it would be important to the community that a larger number of five and ten dollar bills should be in circulation, more especially as, by a late rule of the board of Directors, notes of the smaller denomination are to be every where receivable from whatever offices they may be issued, and as the multifarious duties of the President and Cashier render it almost impossible for them to execute such bills in sufficient quantities to meet the public exigencies, it would therefore be desirable that the assistant cashier, together with some confidential person appointed by the board, should be authorized by law to sign such notes.

The committee, in common with the rest of their fellow-citizens, have heard the current reports and opinions which have so generally been expressed respecting the cost of the building intended for the Bank of the U. States in Philadelphia, and the injuries which have been sustained by the state or local Banks from oppressive demands for specie made upon them by the parent Bank and its officers. As these reports and opinions are founded in error, the committee, from official documents, will represent the facts as they really are.

The land upon which the Bank is to be erected, was purchased in May, 1818, for 167,000 dollars. According to the contracts which have been entered into, and the estimate of a committee appointed by the Board of Directors the building when finished, will not cost more than 195,000.

In the city of Philadelphia, the local banks have received from the parent bank 1,150,972 dollars in specie, more than they have paid to it. No documents which the committee have been possessed of, exhibit the specie transactions between the Bank of the United States and its offices and the local Banks generally, but the books of the Institution in the city show, that the balances due to it by the local banks amount to 2,502,658 dollars, and that the balances due by it to the local banks amount to 941,000 dollars, manifesting that the large sum of 1,561,658 dollars remains due to the Institution, for which it is entitled to demand specie, but which it has forborne to do, although, in order to support the credit of the country, it has purchased great quantities of specie at a considerable expense.

As the degree of confidence which will be, and which ought to be, annexed to the prospects held out in this report relative to the future productiveness of the stock, must not a little depend upon the opinions entertained of the administration of the parent bank, the committee deem it a part of their duty, to give publicity to their sentiments upon this subject. From the time of their appointment, until this report was prepared, although they sat usually from an early hour in the morning until a late hour in the evening, with the exception of intervals allowed for dinner; although, during their sittings, they were very often obliged to apply to the president of the bank for information, they always found him present, always ready, at all hours, to comply with their wishes, and always, when applied to, communicating to them statements, facts and explanations, with unreserved openness, with honorable candour and with luminous perspicuity. From his conduct upon this occasion, from the means of judging of his official conduct afforded in the course of this investigation, as well as from opportunities of knowing him, enjoyed by many members of the committee, both in his private life and in his public career, they speak from the conviction of truth, when they declare that they believe in their consciences, that his administration has been, and will continue to be firm and temperate, wise and conciliating; that he will pursue the sound interests of the institution, divested of fear, favor or affection, and if ever he be chargeable with any errors of the head, from which the enlightened possess no charter of exemption, that he will never be guilty of any errors of the heart.

WM. DRAYTON, Chairman.

Bank of the United States, }
Philadelphia, 5th November, 1819. }

Ordered, That the said Report be accepted by this meeting.

Ordered, That the same be made public under the directions of the Secretary.

[Extract from the minutes.]

J. GALES, Jun. Sec'ry.

The following account of the horrid cruelties practised in Valencia in Spain, is not the least interesting article of the news which we publish to-day.—If the suffering people of that once brave nation are not roused by the practice of such barbarities, to displace their inhuman rulers, we can only pity them without hope. [Fed. Gaz.

Extract of a letter dated, Valencia, September. 2 1819.

"Words are wanting to express my feelings and to convey to you an idea of the scenes of horror and blood represented in this ill-fated city. My pen drops from my hand when I attempt to describe to you the horrid & excruciating torments which Elio has imposed on 119 persons, of all classes, ages sexes and conditions, he himself being present at the greatest part of these abominable punishments, in order that by his captious and designing questions he might be able to rend from them the secret of a revolution, which he imagined would take place in Valencia.—Some have had their arms and legs dislocated with irons of a new invention; others have been pressed down with heavy weights, placed on their breast and belly; others have had their nails plucked out one by one, in order to prolong their sufferings. Even a lady, lately delivered of twins, has been separated from her family, and cast into one of the most dismal dungeons of the Holy Office, merely because information against her was lodged by a wicked character, who declared that she knew a great deal respecting the imaginary revolution. Elio himself went to the Inquisition to interrogate her, and she was exposed to a species of disgraceful torture, of which, even in this country we have no example. She was bound by the legs and arms with harsh ropes on an uneven cradle of iron, and finding that in this painful attitude she did not give declarations conformably to the questions proposed to her, scalding water was poured on her naked limbs. This unfortunate heroine expired amidst the greatest agonies, frantic with the remembrance of her twin children, only twenty one days old. She was one of the heroines of Valencia against the attack of Marshal Moncey. This scene has been divulged by one of the dependants on the inquisition, less inhuman than the rest, and the weeping relatives of this female martyr to freedom are now deploring her loss. So great has been the horror and fury excited in the whole of Valencia by this pafuful affair, that it is visible on the countenance of every individual."

INFAMOUS SCENE.

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, one of those occurrences which are alike a disgrace to human nature, as to civilization, took place in London. An ill-looking, diminutive fellow of apparently low and profligate habits, entered the market, leading by a halter round her neck, his wife, and followed by a numerous crowd of persons.—The poor female, who evinced some shame at this vile exposure, was muscular, as compared to her husband, and possessing an advantage of nearly two feet in height beyond her dwarfish companion, her countenance and manner betrayed evident signs of better sense and decency. The wretch placed her near the Ram Inn, and there amidst the disgust of some, and the laughter of others, put her up for public sale. He for some time attempted to obtain a bidding for his wife, until at length, the sum of 2s 6d being offered, the sale gradually increased as high as 15s. At this moment the multitude had considerably increased, and the noise, disgust, and laughter excited, drew to the spot some of the city officers, who speedily terminated the barbarous scene, by seizing the wife, untwisting the halter from about her neck, and conveying her away to a place of safety. What contributed to the atrocity of this shameful exhibition was, the circumstance of a good looking young woman, the daughter of the wife, standing or rather clinging to her mother, during the shameful spectacle. To render the thing still more atrocious, the parties, it seems, had been married twelve years! The monster escaped amid yells of disgust and abhorrence, which is to be regretted, as he is punishable for a misdemeanor.

SELF DEVOTION.

The following story has appeared in most of the papers:—"A miller's dog broke his chain; the miller ordered his maid servant to tie him up again. She was attacked and bitten by the dog.—On hearing her cries, the miller and his people ran to her assistance. 'Keep off!' said she, shutting the yard door the dog is mad and bitten me sadly, and I must chain him up alone.' Notwithstanding his biting, she did not let him go, but chained him up, and then retired to her chamber, and with the noblest resignation prepared herself to die.—Symptoms of hydrophobia soon broke out; and she died in a few days. The dog was killed, without doing any further mischief."

Died,

On Thursday Evening last after a painful illness, in the 56th year of his age, Captain JOHN TUCKER, a native of Bermuda, and long a respectable inhabitant of this Town.

Valuable Land for Sale.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Superior court of chancery for the district of Fredericksburg in Virginia, the undersigned commissioners will proceed to sell at public auction, upon a credit of one, two, and three years, at Middleburg, in the county of Loudon, on Thursday the 18th day of November next, lying in the neighborhood of Middleburg.—The whole land is of that quality termed plaister land, and susceptible of high improvement by the use of it. The whole will be laid out into small tracts, of from two to three hundred acres each, and sold in separate tracts to suit purchasers. The whole is well watered, and no country is more healthy. Captain Pickett, who lives near the land, and who is employed to make a survey of it; and Mr. Sommers, who is the agent for the collection of the rents, will shew the land to those who may be inclined to purchase. Bond and security, and a deed of trust upon each tract, will be required of the purchaser.

4000 Acres of Land,

JOHN LINTON,
JOHN GIBSON,
PHILIP HARRISON.

Land for Sale.

THE subscribers offer for sale, a valuable TRACT OF LAND, containing 700 acres, lying in Charles county, Maryland, near Smith's Point, and only one mile from the Potomac river; one-half of which is in valuable wood timber, and the soil equal to any in the neighborhood. The improvements are a good dwelling house, with four rooms on a floor; a large barn, nearly new; and every convenient out-house, such as are required on a farm. A credit of one and two years will be given, the purchaser giving bond, with approved security, and if not punctually paid, to bear interest from the day of sale.

If not sold at private sale, it will be offered at public sale, on the 16th November next.

POOR OF BALTIMORE,

By Sympatheticus.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."—Mat. ch. XXV. v. 40.

The profits arising from the sale of this sermon (which is published at the request of several judicious and benevolent individuals, whom the author highly esteems) will be appropriated by the publisher, in aid of the fund, established at Baltimore, for the relief of the sick and distressed poor of that city. It is hoped by the author and publisher, that the inhabitants of Alexandria, to whom the sermon is addressed, will not suffer this appeal to their benevolence, to be made to them in vain.

Subscribers' names will be received at the Gazette office, or by a person duly appointed for the purpose.

Wanted,

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality; the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

Was Committed,

TO the jail for the county of Alexandria on the 3d inst. as a runaway, a negro man called BEN HENDERSON, supposed to be the property of George Thornton, of King George county. The said negro is about 50 years of age; 5 feet 6 inches high; bald head; and a shoemaker by trade. The owner is desired to come prove property, pay charges, and take him away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs.

ANDW. ROUNSAVELL,

september 8 Jailor.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. WM. MASON.

Charles County, Md. June 1.

The editors of the National Intelligencer and Baltimore Federal Gazette will insert the above until forbid, and send their accounts to Port Tobacco for payment.

June 11 tf

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, asmooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility, and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met within the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

I. T. STODDERT,

West Hatton, near Allen's Fresh Post-Office, Charles county, Maryland.

Aromatic Snuff,

For Catarrh & Head ache.

THIS Snuff, as celebrated for its agreeable fragrance as for its efficacy in the cure of recent catarrh and slow nervous headache, is used and approved by the present professor of chemistry in the university of Cambridge, Mass. and by some of the most respectable gentlemen of the faculty in the United States—It is also particularly recommended by Dr Waterhouse, late professor of the theory and practice of physic, in the above seminary—whose certificate accompanies each bottle.—Sold by
